Ljubljana Wine Route

Ljubljana, 8 November

The Ljubljana Wine Route (Ljubljanska vinska pot) marks St. Martin's Day when, according to Slovenian tradition, grapes must officially turn to wine. The event includes the tasting of young wine and culinary delights served from stalls set up in front of the old city centre's bars and restaurants. Slovenia is a country of good wines distinguished by their remarkably natural tastes. Ljubljana is not part of a wine-growing region, but due to its tradition as a commercial centre for the country's wine-growing districts it holds the international title of a "City of Vine and Wine". The Ljubljana Wine Route, held annually in Ljubljana's city centre on the banks of the Ljubljanica river, brings together winemakers from all the wine-growing regions of Slovenia. Apart from wines, it also features traditional Slovenian dishes. Wine and food are available to visitors for both tasting and purchase at favourable prices. The event also offers the opportunity to enjoy brass band concerts and folklore shows and thus experience a bit of Slovenia's rich cultural heritage.
